Consent to Cross-Border Transfer of Personal Data

Version of 6 November 2026

This is a translation of the Russian original. If the two versions differ, the Russian version prevails.

By ticking this box when signing up for WalletDesk, I consent to Artem Petrovich Loskutnikov (the owner of personal records, Kyrgyz Republic; the "service owner") transferring my personal data outside the Kyrgyz Republic on the terms below.

1. What data: name, email, password hash, profile settings, finance records (accounts, transactions, categories, rates), technical session data (IP address, browser and device).
2. To whom and where:
   - DigitalOcean, LLC (USA) — hosting, servers in the Netherlands (EU): all the data listed above;
   - Resend (USA) — sending emails, servers in Ireland (EU): email, name and the text of the service email.
3. Why: to store my data and send service emails: email confirmation, password reset and account deletion. The data is not transferred for any other purpose.
4. Why consent is needed: the State Agency for Personal Data Protection has not yet approved a list of countries with adequate data protection. The transfer is therefore based on my consent (Article 89 of the Digital Code of the Kyrgyz Republic).
5. Duration: for as long as my account exists or until I withdraw my consent.
6. How to withdraw: delete the account in the profile. The service cannot work without this transfer, so withdrawing consent means deleting the account: the data is deleted immediately. What remains after deletion and for how long is described in section 17 of the Terms of Use and Privacy Policy. Transfers made before the withdrawal remain lawful.
7. If anything changes: if the hosting provider, the email service or the country where data is stored changes, the service owner will ask me for new consent when I sign in to the service.
